s initially

(8-33)

the con-
lfetime of

(8-34)

l absorp-
Equation
the more n 8-34 is
n is sub-Equation
ansitions.
y as long
ited state
n of light
tially can

mon
llide
nolar
ec^{-1}.

nally
riplet er by
The
ence.
from

mall.
ctro-
ribed
riplet
conds
ernal
is. in rigid
order
ather
cence

ingle
n deed by

8-38)

(8-39)

cence

(8-40)

(8-41)

ntensity

gth λ is bility of
ength λ;
ector.
sorption

(8-42)

I and d
ation of excited
how the relative 0.70), or

ent. The d for the

on 8-41. xcite the
ssion as ulse will
singlets

(8-43)

quations
directly,
shows a
e single

nt. Now
choice of

[redacted]

nosine

$^{+}H_2$

ds of
vent-
rans-

eous
rigid
ly be on a
ound

ently orm is

550

lime
d by eak
cid.
nce
ons
re-
ore
plet.
ter-
Any
the n is
ular
how n of
of a plex
hore
ough
f the
orre-
and 8-46)

-singlet energy-
donor (colored line) (black line) and of ν^{-4}) is shaded.

:t (A_A) and donor singlet n rapidly converts these an efficient process, the nsfer resonance shifts the onor becomes quenched.
resce. This process, from ote that the two chromo-Energy transfer will take ie concentration is high Å or so.

and acceptor excitation ant interaction that leads to brational relaxation (wavy dly and tends to prevent a ction that would relax the ite the donor.

(8-53)

portant

is that ore, in which nguish-
donor
tected
It can
0^{-3} M.

ciency
done
e rate

(8-54)

e sixth
n R^{-3}

(8-55)

(8-56)

bsorp-
efined
eptor:
mplex
both
scence
ties in

tum yield of the donor.

occurs over a band of the donor occurs over frequency ν. The total
ted at each frequency:

or numerical constants from the fact that $\underline{V}$ as nteraction potential at quantity κ^2. Removing we did above) implies

ed. This may not always finition of $\underline{V}$, we know cence polarization can the κ^2 value still are a nsfer. Fortunately, the ation 8-57 in this form:

o use spectra measured quations 8-55 and 8-56

a function of
-naphthyl $n = 1$ to 12. The Equation 8-57.
ngland. Proc.
1967).]

e y axis. The ited light are x axis. There
long this axis

d to a frozen
ted molecules
nce time scale
ion transition
y coordinates.
al to $(\boldsymbol{\mu} \cdot \mathbf{E})^2$.
θ is the angle
dipoles near
selection.
robability of ne probability
convenient to ve number of
is $\sin\theta\, d\theta\, d\phi$.
nolecules per-
g a molecule
Therefore, the

ced by ppagating
g is pro-
xcited
particular

$V(\theta, \phi)$, and

3/5 (8-61)

l to $|\mu \cdot \hat{i}|^2$.
n $\theta \cos \phi)^2$. robabilities

$\sin^3 \theta = 1.5$

(8-62)

convenient
-are defined

(8-63)

, as you can 8-63. These e under any

he results for

(8-70)

(8-71)

ential, each of
quations 8-70
opy, $A(t)$, the

$-1)/2]$ (8-72)

(8-73)

3-64. molecule is a
the-hydrated
Equation 8-73
escence aniso-
more slowly,
niloyl chymo-
typical value

quation 10-10
otein is about
l be $M/N_0 =$ centipoise: T uation 8-73 as

^{12} sec (8-74)

, if the protein
t for globular
eight is 25,000
predicted and gated shapes

(8-77)

nacro-
case,

(8-78)

(8-79)

same

itions

(8-80)

(8-81)

time
is we
. The
as a
rding
olec-
. The
8-24
tropy
ional
mea-
otein.

tead.
much

py versus mple in which the attach-
a macro-
near portion
apparent
r than the
en these values
es over which relative to the

cular motion
orientations.
η will reflect
k to $T\eta = 0$
s covered by

tionary. The
an enhanced
linear Perrin
s can provide r of a whole
quite difficult
ntation.
can be used
cid contains cited. energy
pres prior to
nal absorber.
polarization
the chromo-
rption. these r, leading to substantially
e an effective
ansfer effects
ze and shape